Pakistan to China by Bicycle

The idea of riding a bicycle from Pakistan to China came to me one day in the summer of 2001. I was hiking with friends when someone mentioned the subject of cycling. At that moment I had the idea: why not ride the Karakoram Highway, the famous mountain road that runs from Pakistan to China? I had done this trip once before by bus, but had found it disappointing as you spend most of the time sitting in the bus.
